

Rokos Group Sourcing Services

Your Partner in Healthcare Talent Acquisition

At Rokos Group, we understand that finding the right talent is crucial for the success of your healthcare organization. Whether you are a hospital, health system, medical group, non-profit organization, or life sciences company, our team is here to provide unparalleled support in sourcing top-tier emerging talent candidates for your key roles.

Why Choose Rokos Group Sourcing Services?

Professionalism and Accountability – Led by firm Partner Chelsea Rokos, our sourcing team brings the same level of service, professionalism, and accountability that we are known for in retained searches, delivered on a success-fee basis.

Proven Track Record – We have successfully placed candidates in roles ranging from Supervisor to Director. Our expertise covers a wide array of positions, including:

- Director of Business Development
- Accounting Manager
- Director of Case Management
- Manager of Safety and Security
- And more.

Our Proven Process

Understanding Your Needs – We begin by thoroughly understanding your search's specific requirements and challenges.

Targeted Sourcing – Utilizing our extensive network and industry expertise, we identify and engage with high-caliber candidates who match your criteria.

Comprehensive Screening – We conduct in-depth screenings to ensure candidates possess the necessary skills and experience and fit well with your organizational culture.

Presentation and Support – We present you with a shortlist of the best candidates and provide ongoing support throughout the interview and selection process.

Flexible and Cost-Effective

Our sourcing services for emerging talent are designed to offer flexibility and cost-effectiveness. By partnering with us, you can access our expertise and resources without committing to a full retained search. This allows you to augment your internal team's efforts and focus on making the right hire.

Let's Get Started

If you're facing a challenging search or simply need additional support, let us help you achieve your hiring goals. Schedule a brief call to discuss your needs and how we can assist. Partner with Rokos Group Sourcing Services and experience the difference in healthcare talent acquisition.
